5.0 GREEN AUDIT

Green Audit is a process of systematic identification, quantification, recording, reporting and analysis of components of environmental diversity of various establishments. It aims to analyze environmental practices within and outside of the concerned sites, which will have an impact on the eco-friendly ambience. Green audit can be a useful tool for a university to determine how and where they are using the most energy or water or resources; the university can then consider how to implement changes and make savings. It can also be used to determine the type and volume of waste, which can be used for a recycling project or to improve waste minimization plan. It can create health consciousness and promote environmental awareness, values and ethics. It provides staff and students better understanding of green impact on campus. If self-enquiry is a natural and necessary outgrowth of a quality education, it could also be stated that institutional self-enquiry is a natural and necessary outgrowth of a quality educational institution. Thus, it is imperative that the university evaluate its own contributions toward a sustainable future. As environmental sustainability is becoming an increasingly important issue for the nation, the role of higher educational institutions in relation to environmental sustainability is more prevalent. The rapid urbanization and economic development at local, regional and global level has led to several environmental and ecological crises. On this background it becomes essential to adopt the system of the Green Campus for the institutes which will lead for sustainable development and at the same time reduce a sizable amount of atmospheric carbon-di-oxide from the environment. The National Assessment and Accreditation Council, New Delhi (NAAC) has made it mandatory that all Higher Educational Institutions should submit an annual Green Audit Report.

6.0 WHY GREEN AUDIT

- In present scenario, people are not caring nature. They are directly or indirectly damaging the environment causing problems like; global warming, ecological damage, air pollution, water pollution etc.
- The intention of organizing Green Audit is to upgrade the environmental condition in and around the college.

7.0 GOALS OF GREEN AUDIT

- The objective to carry out Green Audit is to secure the environment and cut down the threats to ecology and human health.
- To make sure that rules and regulations are taken care of
- To avoid the interruptions in environment that are more difficult to handle and their correction requires high cost.
- To suggest the best protocols to add for sustainable development.

8.0 OBJECTIVES

In recent time, the Green Audit of an institution has been becoming a paramount important for self-assessment of the institution which reflects the role of the institution in mitigating the present environmental problems. The university has been putting efforts to keep our environment clean since its inception. But the auditing of this non-scholastic effort of the university has not been documented.

Therefore, the purpose of the present green audit is to identify, quantify, describe and prioritize framework of Environment Sustainability in compliance with the applicable regulations, policies and standards. The main objectives of carrying out Green Audit are:

- To prepare a checklist of flora and fauna diversity in and around the university campus.
- To suggest measures to improve biodiversity within the university campus.
- To monitor the energy consumption pattern of the university.
- To assess the quantity of water usage within the university campus.
- To suggest sustainable energy usage and water conservation practices.
- To find out various sources of organic and solid waste generation and mitigation possibilities.

9.0 METHODOLOGY

The purpose of the audit was to ensure that the practices followed in the campus are in accordance with the Green Policy adopted by the institution. The criteria, methods and recommendations used in the audit were based on the identified risks. The methodology includes: preparation and filling up of questionnaire, physical inspection of the campus, observation and review of the document, interviewing responsible persons and data analysis, measurements and recommendations. The methodology adopted for this audit was a three-step process comprising:

9.1 Pre-Audit Stage

- Plan the audit
- Plan the audit team
- Schedule the audit facility
- Acquire the background information
- Visit the site

9.2 On-Site Stage

- Understand the scope of Audit
- Analyze the strengths and weakness of the internal controls
- Conduct the Audit
- Evaluate the observations of Audit Programs
- Prepare a report of the observations side by side

9.3 Post-Audit

- Produce a draft report of the data collected
- Produce a final report of the final observations and the interference with accuracy
- Distribute the report to the management
- Prepare an action to overcome the flaws
- Keep a watch on the action plan

10.0 COMPONENT OF GREEN AUDIT

10.1 Water

Water is a natural resource; all living matters depend on water. While freely available in many natural environments, in human settlements potable (drinkable) water is less readily available. We need to use water wisely to ensure that drinkable water is available for all. Aquifer depletion and water contamination are taking place at unprecedented rates. It is therefore essential that any environmentally responsible institution should examine its water use practices. Water auditing is conducted for the evaluation of facilities of raw water intake and determining the facilities for water treatment and reuse. The concerned auditor investigates the relevant method that can be adopted and implemented to balance the demand and supply of water. It is therefore essential that any environmentally responsible institution examine its water use practices.

10.1.1 Source of water

The main source of water in college campus is ground water i.e. bore well. College campus has 03 nos. of bore wells out of which one is fitted with submersible pump and two used as handpump.
